GREAT SORROW.

School Building Burns--165 Children Caught in Death Trap.

At Cleveland, Ohio, March 4, occurred in narrow hallways, jammed up against doors that opened inward, 165 children in the suburbs of North Collinwood were killed by fire, by smoke, and beneath the grinding heels of their panic-stricken playmates.

The awful tragedy occurred Wednesday morning in the public school at North Collinwood. At 10 o'clock Wednesday night 165 corpses were in the morgue, six children were still unaccounted for and all the hospitals and houses for two miles around contained a number of children, some fatally and many less seriously injured.

All of the victims were between the ages of six and seventeen years. The school contained between 310 and 325 pupils, and only about eighty are known to have left the building unharmed.

The schoolhouse was of brick, two stories and an attic in height. The smaller children had been placed in the upper part of the building. There was but one fire escape, and that was in the rear of the building.

There were two stairways, one leading to a door in front, and the other to a door in the rear. Both of these doors opened inward, and, it is claimed, the rear door was locked as well.

When the flames were discovered, the teachers, who throughout seemed to have acted with courage and self-possession, and to have struggled heroically for the safety of their pupils, marshaled the little ones into column for the "fire drill," which they had often practiced.

FLAMES STOP THEM.

Unfortunately, the line of march in this exercise had always led to the front door and the children had not been trained to seek any other exit. The fire came from a furnace directly under this part of the building.

When the children reached the foot of the stairs they found the flames close upon them, and so swift a rush was made for the door that a tightly packed mass was piled up against it.

The children at the foot of the stairs attempted to fight their way back to the floor above, while those who were coming down showed them mercilessly back into the flames below.

Most of those who were killed died here. The greater portion of those who escaped managed to turn back and reached the fire escapes and the windows in the rear.

What happened at the foot of that first flight of stairs will never be known. After the flames had died away, however, a huge heap of little bodies, burned by the fire and trampled into things of horror, told the tale as well as anybody need to know it.

BURNS THREE HOURS.

Within three hours after the start of the fire the work of recovering the bodies commenced.

Thirty children were so burned and dismembered that parents could not recognize them.

The village Fire Department had two engines, but neither was effective.

Yes, really I did intend to pay my subscription, but I forgot--No, I'll take that back and tell the truth--I did not forget.

BLOOD WILL FLOW

Kentucky is near to being deluged with blood and stands on the verge of a condition which will make the previous raids of night riders seem but child play, according to speeches which were made in the House during the discussion of the McChord tobacco bill. The prediction was made that unless something is done to check the depredations of the tobacco trust and relieve the condition of the tobacco growers, the people will take things in their own hands and plunge Kentucky into riot and bloodshed. John L. Smith, of Kuttawa, and J. H. Joyke, of Owen county declared that the people have been ground down long enough and will soon make the past raids of the night riders look like the acts of a child by comparison with what they will do hereafter.

The McChord bill puts the tobacco companies under the police power of the State and meet with opposition from the independent tobacco dealers manufacturers and the trust.

GO AFTER THE TRUSTS.

Three members of the House spoke on the bill or rather against the American Tobacco Company. The speakers devoted their time to a description of the suffering and troubles which have been inflicted on the people of the State by the great tobacco trust. W. C. McChord, the author of the bill devoted most of his time to telling of the organization of the farmers and of their hard struggle.

Mr. Smith told what would be done by the tobacco growers, declaring that they are ready to lay down their lives and wade in blood to win their cause. He said they would stand together and unless something was done to protect them they would protect themselves and blood would flow in Kentucky.

LATER--The McChord bill passed the House.

Election Contest.

Powell county on Wednesday, February 26, voted dry by 255 majority, and Monday, March 2, the whisky men filed contest proceedings in the county court to set aside the above result. Drowning men will grab at straws, or any old thing. But this election will stand and is a go. The two saloons at Clay City have for several weeks been in operation without county license and will, we presume, have to close.

Twenty-Eight Years Before February 29 Comes on Saturday Again.

February 29 came this year on Saturday. This will not occur again until 1936. That is, it takes a course of seven leapyears to bring the 29th the same day of the week.

Convicted.

In Breathitt Circuit Court John and Henry Combs were given 21 years in prison for murdering their uncle, Thomas Combs, who had served time in the pen for killing his own brother. Six other murder cases are on the docket for this week.

INDIGNATION MEETING

HELD BY DEMOCRATS.

Democrats held a rousing indignation meeting Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to protest against the action of E. W. Lillard in violating his pledges. Democrats were stirred as they have never been stirred before.

BITTER AGAINST LILLARD.

Democrats are bitter against Lillard in all parts of the county. Chairman Evans was besieged with requests to call indignation meeting.

PUBLICLY RIDICULED.

The county is being publicly ridiculed throughout the State and citizens will not stand idly by and see the good name of the county besmirched with shame.

Besieged with requests from Democrats from every part of Boyle county, Col. R. G. Evans, chairman of the Democratic County Committee, issued the following:

MASS INDIGNATION MEETING.

"By request from prominent Democrats from every portion of Boyle county, in person and by telephone, insisting that a mass meeting be held at which they might have opportunity to give expression to their feelings of indignation over the action of E. W. Lillard in betraying and violating his sacred pledges to the Democrats of Boyle county, Thursday afternoon, March 5, 1908, at 2 o'clock is now designated as a time at which Democrats may meet at the court house in Danville, Ky., for the purpose requested as stated above."

R. G. EVANS, Chairman Democratic County Committee. The above headline and call are taken from the Kentucky Advocate, the only paper in Danville, Ky.

Lillard is the Democratic Representative who voted against Mr. Bradley for Mr. Bradley. How will he feel when he returns to Danville?

SAVE THIS.

Put It in Some Safe Place, For It May Come in Handy Some Day.

Here is a simple, home-made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, who makes the statement in a New York daily newspaper, that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night; painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome. Here is the recipe: try it:

Fluid, Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known druggist here in town is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily mixed at home by shaking well in a bottle. This mixture has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary structure, and often overcomes the worst forms of Rheumatism in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the Kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and system all uric acid and foul, decomposed waste matter, which cause these afflictions. Try it if you aren't well. Save the prescription,

BRADLEY FOR

FAIRBANKS.

Taft Would Likely Be Defeated if Nominated.

Every Defeat of Republicans in This State in Last Twenty Years Laid at Door of Federal Officeholders.

Senator-elect W. O. Bradley issued a statement at Frankfort on March 2 which puts him at the head of the Fairbanks forces in Kentucky. While he declares himself unopinionably for Fairbanks, he thinks Cannon or Hughes could win if nominated, while Taft would carry the party down to defeat in November.

Governor Bradley bitterly denounces Federal officeholders and holds them practically responsible for every important defeat the Republicans have suffered in Kentucky in the last twenty years.

GOV. BRADLEY'S STATEMENT.

"During the contest for United States Senator I felt, as the nominee of the Republican party, that I had no right to endanger success by complicating that race with my preference for the nominee for President. Despite absolute silence in this matter, the active friends of Mr. Taft aside from those in the General Assembly, and a few others, gave no aid or comfort, some of them doing what they were able to do to defeat me. Now that the contest has been happily ended I feel that the public has the right to know my position."

"The recent financial troubles, which unhappily have not been wholly relieved, will, of course, whether justly or not, be charged upon the Republican party, just as the Homestead riots were charged upon it in 1902. Notwithstanding Mr. Harrison had given one of the most superb administrations the country had ever experienced, and that neither he nor his party were responsible for those riots, the Republican party went down to defeat."

"We might as well appreciate the fact now that we shall have no walkover in the coming Presidential contest. It, therefore, behooves the party to exercise great caution in the selection of a Presidential candidate."

"Judge Taft is a man of winning personality and signal ability, and would, if elected, make a great President. But while this is true, it seems evident that his election is by no means certain. With the labor unions and Negroes against him it is exceedingly doubtful whether he could carry the States of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, New Jersey, New York and possibly others. There can be no hope of carrying Kentucky, West Virginia or Maryland. So far as the Central and extreme Southern States are concerned, it is well known that not a single electoral vote can be had for Mr. Taft or any other Republican. Besides it is plain that the last mentioned States are controlled alone by Federal officeholders."

"The Federal officeholders in Kentucky have never failed when controlling the party in the State to accomplish a Democratic success."

"Now the Republican Federal officeholders of the State, with few exceptions, are banded, organized and earnestly laboring to carry the State for Mr. Taft. Should they succeed they will lead the party to another defeat."

"I sincerely hope that the Republicans of Kentucky will rebuke these self-constituted masters, and see to it that the boys in the

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Mt. Sterling Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Mt. Sterling readers.

Mollie A. Power, of Main street, Richmond, Ky., the well known "allied" tailor, says: "For seven years I suffered almost continuously from kidney troubles, all the symptoms usual to such cases manifesting themselves. I was unable to find anything in the large number of remedies which I tried that seemed at all likely to do me any good, and one by one I gave them up."

Finally I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills in a way that made me believe they must be good and I got a box. They helped me from the first and I take keen pleasure in this opportunity to state my belief in Doan's Kidney Pills."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Diersen's drug store and ask what customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name--Doan's--and take no other. 34-2t

HIS ARTISTIC SOUL REVOLTED.

Young Painter Saw Period of Suffering While Earning Needed Money.

The young artist, almost on the verge of starvation, had just accepted an order from an elderly splinter to paint her portrait. When the terms and appointments had been fixed and the splinter was descending the rocky studio stairs, a student friend of the young painter, who had overheard the deal, rushed in from the next room to offer his congratulations.

"Why, Francis, why so downhearted?" he inquired, stopping short to stare at the artist. "Didn't I just overhear you bagging an order to paint a face at 1,000 francs?"

"Yes," replied Francis, sadly. "And your need of the money is something fierce, isn't it?"

And the other nodded.

"Then, my friend, you should be kicking the ceiling in your lucky strike!"

The artist now lifted his head slowly and gazed pitifully at his companion. "Melvin," said he, "did you get a glimpse of her?"

"No."

"Then," said the other, following his head again to fall into his hands. "You do not know, my friend, what torture I will have to undergo from morning till night for a whole week studying that face!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

YOUNG CONVICT WAS A GENIUS.

Australian Saved from Penitentiary Later Did Remarkable Work.

In the gardens attached to the houses of parliament, Melbourne, there is an elaborately sculptured fountain, embellished with human figures, birds, flowers and various other ornamental work in stone. This fountain has a remarkable history. It was constructed entirely by a convict named William Stanford, within the walls of the Melbourne jail. When a young man of 21, Stanford, in a weak moment, joined a band of hushhanded desperadoes, was captured and sentenced to terms of imprisonment amounting in the aggregate to 21 years. One day Col. Champ, the governor of Melbourne jail, was astonished to find a beautiful angelic figure which Stanford had carved out of a mere block. He showed it to the leading sculptor of Melbourne who declared that the young man was a natural genius. The sculptor visited the jail and gave Stanford some lessons in the art. A petition for pardon was influentially signed, and Stanford was released. He became one of the most successful sculptors in Melbourne, and completely lived down his juvenile criminal escapade.

As to Hogs.

A venerable Chinese laundryman, who likes to tell a tale or swap a lie, said the other day: "In China every gentleman works for a living. Except the beggar. He works for all. Hogs do work in some parts of Ireland, and in the lowlands of Germany are beasts of burden. Abraham Lincoln used to tell about them in his younger days working in Indiana and Illinois. In the backwoods, when a chimney was to be built, or a cabin dished, the workmen dug a big hole in the clayey ground, filled it about half full of water, scattered a few handfuls of corn therein and turned loose the swine. The latter plunged in after the corn, and in a short while had converted the contents of the hole into excellent mortar."

Look Forward.

Forget your faults and failures. Or remember them only to learn the lesson they have to teach, the frailty or folly or wickedness of spirit which they should disclose to you—the vanity that weakens, the pride that hardens, the greed that corrupts. Let your past be not a ball and chain tied to your ankle to keep you back, but a journal to tell you what road you have traveled. Then, looking back only long enough to see where you are and what your course should be, forget the things that are behind and press forward.—The Outlook.

Luminous Birds.

Owls do not appear to be the only luminous birds. The authors of "The Water Birds of North America" allude to the phosphorescent plumage of the great blue heron. The best features of this species, it appears, are furnished with a downy, light-emitting substance. The bird itself is known as the "luminous." It is suggested that the luminosity may be of service to the bird, both by attracting the fish and enabling it to see them.

To Call Out Stations.

"The number of people who speak the English language is now estimated at 175,000,000," remarked the boarder who had been cleaning statistics from a patent medicine almanac.

"So?" rejoined the fussy old bachelor at the paternal extremity of the mahogany. "It's a wonder he should employ some of them as guards on the elevated trains."

Had Hoped for Real Money.

"Mr. Heavyweight" said the minister, "is willing to subscribe $10,000 for a new church, provided we can get other subscriptions making the same amount."

"Yet you seem disappointed," said his wife.

"Yes, I was in hopes he would contribute $100 in cash," said the Country.

To the People of Montgomery County:

As we all know, there is a feeling of unrest—indeed, an undercurrent of bad feeling among our people. Now, this ought not to be. We are neighbors and friends; we live in the same good old State; we are subject to the same laws; we worship the same God, and we all hope to reach a better country. When it comes to the question of law and order, peace and good feeling, the matter of growing or not growing tobacco ought not to enter into it. What are a few dollars gained or lost when the good name of the people is at stake.

Now I feel sure that there are some who will grow tobacco; others who will not. Must there be war over it? Wouldn't forbearance be better? And wouldn't we die about as rich whether we did or did not grow it? As for myself, individually, when the Society of Equity was first talked of I went into it heartily, as some of my neighbors know, and when our President fell down (as reported) I then, whilst not growing myself, urged my friends to join the new society and pool their tobacco. When it was proposed to cut out the 1906 crop, I immediately rescinded contract made, enabling some cashable loss.

This being my position I feel free to appeal to my friends in the Society and all other good citizens to join us of the Law and Order League, recently formed to make the best fight we can to secure for us and our families that peace and respect for law to which we are entitled and which I believe we can have. Your truly,

H. C. HOWELL.

Offer for 1,000 Hogsheads.

The conference between the committee from the Equity Society and representatives of the American Tobacco Company, looking to the sale of 1906 crop held at Louisville is over, and resulted in an offer from the American people to purchase one thousand hogsheads of Burley tobacco at Equity prices at Equity prices on sample with an option on entire 1906 crop, if quality is satisfactory.

The Equity Society has so far sold all tobacco of seven grades of the 1906 crop in the pool throughout the Burley district with a considerable sprinkling of other grades which is over one-sixth of the 1906 crop. This tobacco sold was purchased exclusively by independent concerns and does not include the one thousand hogsheads the American people are now dickering for.

Clark County Roads.

The Clark County Construction Company began the agitation for letting out to the lowest bidder the various contracts for furnishing materials and repairing the pikes. Mr. David S. Gay, president of that company, has requested us to publish the following statement:

"The whole matter resolves itself into simply this: The supervisor of roads, with the consent of the County Judge, has absolutely refused to allow any competition in the letting of the contracts for furnishing rock and repairing roads. The statute in so many words expressly requires this work to be advertised and let to the lowest and best bidder. It is easy for the supervisor to ascertain approximately the work needed for each turnpike, and take bids for it upon such terms as to quarrying, spreading, etc., as he may designate. By the competitive system prescribed by the statute a number of bidders could easily be found in each neighborhood for the work in that particular section. Instead of doing this, however, they avail themselves of an exception in the statute which permits the supervisor with the consent of the County Judge, to withhold from competitive bids certain roads or parts of roads and make the contracts privately. To avoid the main provision of the statute they simply designate ALL THE ROADS OF THE COUNTY as coming within this exception, and thus, in clear violation of the spirit of the law, make private instead of public contracts for all the work upon all the pikes of the county."—Winchester Democrat.

Friends of Father Mulvihill begged him not to appear at the church on Sunday morning at all. "If they want to kill me they will do so," answered Father Mulvihill. "I shall attend to my church duties as usual."

IMMUNE TO GERMS OF TYPHOUS.

Doctor's Mistake Would Have Been Serious But for Good Health.

A man in sound health need fear nothing from typhoid germs, according to evidence brought out at a London hearing of a damage claim by the proprietor of a Malvern "Hydro" bathing establishment's water supply. Dr. Thresh, one of the greatest English experts on typhoid, was a witness. He testified that a drop of water may contain a population equaling the entire world.

"I've swallowed millions," he remarked, cheerfully. "How did you like them?" inquired the judge, immediately curious. "I enjoyed the pleasure of anticipation for three weeks," said the doctor, "but after that I felt happy. It was an accident, however. I was testing water said to contain typhoid bacilli. The weather was hot, and one day I swallowed a glass of water at a gulp. Too late I discovered that it was a glass into which I had put the typhoid germs. Had my health been as it had been a good subject, I should have suffered. As it was, I felt no ill effects."

HALLUCINATION A STRONG ONE.

He Was Sure Someone Entered His Room, Although Doubly Locked.

"I was lying in a hotel bedroom one morning," he said, "about half awake when I heard a key rattling in the door. Much to my horror, the door opened and the maid came in to make up the room, or at least so it seemed to me. I called out to her to leave and she did so. All this happened in a minute or less and I fell asleep again. When I woke up I remembered the incident clearly."

"When I came to look at the door, however, I found that it was not only locked from the inside with the key, but that a bolt was also shot. I was sure that I had seen the maid enter, but when I asked her if she had, she said that she had tried the door from the outside and hearing me call out had departed. As far as I can make out it must have been a very complete hallucination about seeing her, called up in my mind by my sleep condition. My fear that she might return, I now deride if that has happened to many persons."

He Understood.

During a financial flurry a German farmer went to the bank for some money. He was told that the bank was not paying out money, but was using cashier's checks. He could not understand this, and insisted on money. The officers took him in hand, one at a time, with little effect. Finally the president tried his hand, and after a long and minute explanation, some intelligence of the situation seemed to be dawning on the farmer's mind. Finally the president said: "You understand now fully how it is, Hans, don't you?" "Yes," said Hans. "I think I do. It's like this, Hans. My baby takes up at night and wants milk, I give him a milk ticket."

A Strong Point Against Him.

"You say you have known this defendant for many years?" "Yes, ever since he was a boy."

"Do you consider him to be of sound mind?"

"Well, I don't want to say anything against him if it isn't necessary."

"But you are under oath to speak the truth. Have you ever observed his actions anything that would lead you to the belief he was weak mentally?"

"He married the daughter of a poor man when he might have become the son-in-law of a wealthy manufacturer who would have made him general manager of the business."

He Wouldn't Set.

A Washington photographer, now famous, told the other day how, in his youth, he was practicing his art in Cleveland when Mark Twain visited the town to lecture. Impressed with the humorist's splendid features, the photographer, at the lecture's end, sent up a note asking Mr. Clemens for a sitting. The reply that came back was characteristic. It said: "A sitting? Is thy servant a hen that he should do this thing?"

No Cause for Alarm.

"I can't understand my husband, doctor. I am afraid there is something terrible the matter with him."

"What are his symptoms?"

"Well, I often talk to him for half an hour at a time, and when I get through he hasn't the least idea what I've been saying."

"Do not worry any more about your husband. I wish I had his gift."

Chicago Record Herald.

Prejudice.

"Robert, this spelling paper is very poor," complained the small boy's teacher. "Nearly every word is marked wrong."

"It wouldn't have been so had," protested Robert, "but Anne corrected my paper, and she's mad at me, and for every little letter that I got wrong she crossed out the whole word!"

Handshakes of the Rich.

"They say old Gotalotte was pretty hard hit during the recent panic."

"Yes, poor old chap; I'm mighty sorry for him, too. He is so hard up that he can't afford to smoke anything better than three-for-fifty cigars."

ROOM FILLED WITH SKELETONS.

For nearly 38 years the monastery at Carientini, Italy, has been abandoned, although the chapel connected with it has remained open for public worship. Behind the sacristy is a door which has always been shut and was believed to lead into one of the rooms of the monastery. The other day the syndic decided to make use of this room, so he had some workmen open the door, a terrific spectacle met the gaze for the room was piled full of human skeletons, reaching almost to the ceiling. The syndic ordered the skeletons, some of which were more or less mummified bodies, to be taken out and buried in the Campo Santo. They numbered a few over 400.

Naturally, a tremendous sensation was caused by these discoveries, and the widest conjectures were advanced. According, however, to the oldest inhabitant of Carientini, the facts are as follows: When monks inhabited the monastery, a certain sum was paid them for the privilege of sepulture in the church. The church, however, was small, and when there were too many for any more corpses, the monks, rather than lose an important source of income, continued to receive bodies for burial, but instead of depositing them beneath the floor of the church, cast them into the rooms behind the sacristy, or into the pavilions close by, where they have just been discovered.

WORLD'S NEED OF STRONG MEN.

Should Be Better Than the Generations of the Past.

Some of us are disposed to be satisfied if we can be pretty nearly as good as the men of this last generation. That will not do at all. The men of this generation have got to be a great deal better men—bigger, broader, stronger, kinder, braver, wiser—than their fathers were. If they are not they will be swamped with the business of the world in their hands. The entire ethical standard of financial life is being, and must be, lifted up. We cannot do the enormously increased work of the world today on the moral plane where we were living 25 years ago. If we attempt it we shall plunge ourselves in chaos. We have got to have higher principles of justice and equality and clearer notions of financial integrity, and stronger convictions of duty to trusts, and a deeper sense of the business responsibility of every man to the whole community.—Washington Gladden.

Still Accepting Bouquet.

"It is strange," remarked Mr. Squiggle to his grandson Horace, "what a fascination chorus girls exercise upon such young noddies as yourself. I saw a woman as lovely as a gingham umbrella and put her in the back row of the chorus, where she hasn't a thing to do except draw her breath and sing her salary, and the first thing I know a lot of foolish boys are sending her flowers, mass notes and jewelry and begging her to accept of them. I said to her, 'My dear, if you know I'm a queer thing—this glimmer of stage life.'"

"But grandpa,"

"The actresses of the present day are far more fascinating than they were when you were a lad, 40 years ago."

"Not much, my boy. There are many on the stage now with whom I was acquainted in my youthful days."

Letter Writing.

Writing interesting letters doesn't come naturally to me, and there are a good many people with whom I must keep in touch through letters, if at all. So I have got into the habit of keeping a notebook and jotting down in it brief notes to remind me of little bits of news that will specially interest my different correspondents. I even jot down a little joke sometimes, says Home Chat. Then, when spare time comes to write my letters my notes are ready to hand, and the interesting scraps of news don't go flying away directly I put my pen to paper, as they used to. Everybody tells me my letters are much more interesting because of news than they used to be. If so, that is the secret.

A Road to Happiness.

It is not at all difficult to believe that it is easier to give it if it is the English girl, inasmuch as the former always knows exactly what she wants, and a fact which must not be lost sight of is that the American girl is admittedly entitled to demand what she wants, while she gets it because she is so sure of her own mind. The view that it is easier to give it if it is easier to refuse. The English girl, as a rule, loses her heart for no reason except that she wants for the simple reason that she is aware that greater happiness lies in diminishing vain desires from her mind.—Lady's Pictorial.

Side Lights on History.

The Washington estate had just been named Mount Vernon in honor of Andrew Vernon of the British navy. "You'll have to stand for it, George," said Maj. Lawrence Washington to his younger brother, "the estate American to do honor to this spot as the sacred shrine of his country's liberty. It will then be named 'Vernon' on account of its abundant greenery."

George said nothing, but his face instantly assumed that stern, uncompromising expression so familiar to all who are in the patriot on the two cent postage stamp.

INDICTED

For Writing Prescriptions For Whisky.
Violation of Liquor Law Starts a Sensation.

At Cynthiana, Ky., March 4, a great sensation was caused when the grand jury returned seventy indictments. Four doctors were indicted for writing prescriptions for whisky. I. E. Thompson, of Robertson county, was indicted twelve times. O. L. McLawine, a colored porter, was indicted thirteen times on the same charge; G. W. Tighter, three times; Dr. Peterson, six times, and T. H. Wallon, four times.

Howard Jett, a druggist, was indicted fourteen times for selling whisky without a license, and J. W. Renaker, a druggist, six times for the same offense.

That county on July 18 went dry by a big majority and the city by 34.

One physician issued 15 prescriptions for whisky in fifty days. The foreman was T. Lloyd Thompson, a wealthy farmer.

Roosevelt and Harlan Congratulate Gov. Bradley.

President Roosevelt wrote Mr. Bradley a personal letter, which read as follows:

"Washington.—My dear Senator Bradley: I must add just a line, the list of congratulations you are receiving. My pleasure was as great as my surprise when the good news came. I trust I may see you not so very long hence in Washington. With regard, believe me, very truly yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Justice John M. Harlan also wrote Mr. Bradley as follows:

"As you know, I am not in politics; indeed, haven't attended political meetings nor heard political speeches since I came to the bench. But I may, with propriety, congratulate you, as I do most heartily on your election to the Senate. It is a great result for the State and the country. Six years in the Senate will prove to be most agreeable to you in every way. Kentucky, I hope, is now on the way back to her old position in the sisterhood of States.

"JOHN M. HARLAN."

ALLEN R LEASED.

Charged With Carrying Concealed Weapons.

Enj. Thompson sat in the case against Clint Allen, charged with carrying concealed deadly weapons at the time when he shot and killed Perry Turner, colored. The Commonwealth failed to prove that Allen had the pistol concealed. There was no denial of the fact that Allen killed Turner. The verdict of the jury was: Not guilty.

A Child's Perception.

Harry Rooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rooney, is three years old. Recently Mrs. Rooney sent the little fellow to see Mrs. James Groves. When the child reached the yard he saw tobacco stalks spread on the ground and refused to enter. He returned home, saying: "Don't Mrs. Groves have guards? I see she's got backer in her yard."

This is a smart child. He had heard people talk about guards at warehouse, night riders, shooting, tobacco, etc. This he remembered when he saw and the child was afraid to enter.

On the Train.

The writer was on west-bound train on Monday afternoon. He met O. H. Stumbo, Deputy Sheriff of Floyd county, enroute to Frankfort with Keene Burchett and Chas. Salyer, each to serve two years, the first for killing a man, the second for forgery.

Our friend W. H. May, of Prestonsburg, was enroute to the Federal Court at Frankfort. He was appointed Commonwealth's Attorney to succeed A. B. Stephens, who died last fall. In his 31st Judicial district in Knott county a revenue officer had shot and killed a Mr. Short who was running to avoid being arrested. The case had been transferred to Federal Court and Mr. May was notified to appear for the prosecution.

Can't Live on Salary.

The jailers of Kentucky have sent a petition to the Legislature asking for sufficient salaries to live on. It says in part: "The jail doors in nearly every county in which local option prevails are wide open and the jailers have been compelled to engage in other pursuits for the purpose of eking out a scanty support for their families."

Training for Service class in rear room of Christian Church on Thursday evening.

Members of ALL churches are invited to Training for Service class. At last session there were 38 present.

Mrs. A. M. Harrison, of Lexington, gave two admirable and inspiring talks at the Christian Church on Sunday afternoon and evening on the work accomplished and now being carried on in the United States and foreign lands by the C. W. B. M.

Among the Christian churches, the leaders in Teacher Training and Training for Service have selected Monday, March 15, as a day to be devoted especially to Training for Service when the ministers are asked to preach a sermon on Bible Study and drive its importance home to the hearts of the membership.

On that day the minister of the Somerset Christian Church will have as theme "An Open Bible, Well Read and Studied, and Its Teachings Observed."
